Find HELP

Find HEALING

Find HOPE

from the safety of home

While the abortion industry is insistent that everyone 'shout their abortion', thousands of women suffer silently - once afraid to speak up in the pro-life community, now also afraid to speak up in the pro-choice community, feeling they must be the only ones suffering this way.

We want you to know you are not alone.

Post Abortive Syndrome is very real.

But so is the forgiveness, and so is the freedom in Christ!

We understand you may not want to reach out locally, so we have compiled a listing of online Abortion Recovery ministries, led by post abortive women who are now walking in that forgiveness and freedom and ready to walk with you - regardless of whether your abortion was days ago or decades. Thousands of women are finding the peace and hope they were longing for. Please give them a look:
